To Florida Tourists and Settlers

(THE F. R. & N.)

The Florida Railway and Navigation C

MAKES DAILY CONNECTION WITH THE

S. F. & W. fast mail train at Jacksonville, making connection with all other trains at Jacksonville, leaving the latter place at 9:00 a. m., 12:30 p. m., and 8:30 p. m., for all points in south Florida, viz: Hawthorne, Gainesville, Cedar Key, Silver Springs, Blue Springs, Ocala, Wildwood, Palm Bay, Titusville, Orlando, and the Indian River country.

The only line giving a choice of three routes to points on the west coast of Florida, viz: Through Cedar Key, Lecochee, Plant City and Orlando.

The most beautiful and picturesque portions of the state are traversed by this line. Hundreds of bearing grove are a sight and seen from the cars.

The lovely lake of Lochloosa, Orange, Harris, Griffin, Eustis, Dora, Pensacola and Apopka are located on this line. The only line reaching most of the points named, and close and direct connections made to all others. The famous Silver Springs, the head of the Ocala river, can only be reached all rail via this line. The short and direct route to the beautiful Homosassa country, abundant in fish and game, and passing Blue Springs, the head of the Wekiva (blue river). The only line to Fernandina, with its celebrated beach of twenty-two miles drive and only thirty-six miles from Jacksonville, three daily trains. The only line to Tallahassee, the capital of the state, Madison, Monticello and Quincy. Florida's great tobacco industries are located on this division of the F. R. & N. In fact, there is hardly an important point in the state not reached by the following offices: First-class road beds and excellent train service. Through tickets at low rates and baggage checked to all points.

Don't fail to send for elegant indexed township maps of Florida. For any information regarding rates and routes, inquire of any of the company's agents or the following offices:

THE BEE HIVE.

GIGANTIC SALE OF SEASONABLE GOODS FOR

MONDAY FROM THE LATE

New York Auction Sales!

The Bee Hive the only house represented at these great sales from Atlanta. Astonishing bargains, which cannot help but attracting the attention of every lady in this city and surrounding country. Goods sold at auction prices. The Bee Hive leads all competition. A chance for the public seldom offered, especially the first of the season.

HERE WE ARE STILL IN THE LEAD!

Dress Goods! Dress Goods!

100 pieces Henrietta Cashmere, full 31 inches wide in all the new shades of grape, purple, blue, terra cotta, copper and all the new greens at only 12c yard; these goods were never offered before for less than 25c yard. They are from auction at auction prices.

Late Monie Cloth, strictly all wool, in blue, brown, cream and tan; imported goods, and regularly sold at 75c yard. This is the last lot we shall receive and we offer them at 25c yard.

50 pieces stripe All-wool Cloth, in brown, blue, black and white, terra cotta and cream, very desirable and fully worth 60c yard. Price for Monday will be 37c. They are auction goods and cannot be duplicated.

Hindoo Serges, all colors, very fine all wool goods, such as are sold at 50c yard. Price for Monday 37c.

The Bargain of the Season.

50 pieces finest quality Serges that retail for 65c yard. We shall offer them for Monday in every new shade that is made at only 55c yard. Without a doubt the best bargain ever offered the public.

SILKS! SILKS!

Another great week of special

BARGAINS at the BEE HIVE.

5 pieces of Black Gros Grain Silk, our regular quality, for Monday at 75c yard.

We guarantee the wear of this Silk and will return for every one that proves unsatisfactory.

We claim it to be the grandest bargain ever offered by any Dry Goods house in America for a genuine Black Gros Grain Silk at 75c yard.

Fancy China Silks, 33 inches wide, remember the width, at only 50c yard. Cannot be matched by any house less than $1 yard.

3 pieces Blue Gros Grain Silk at only 50c, worth 75c.

For Monday we will offer still greater bargains in Black Gros Grain Silks than in any new shade that is made at only 55c yard.

Every lady should visit THE BEE HIVE.

HERE WE ARE AGAIN.

5 pieces all silk Black Satin Rhadames at 75c yard; we shall offer this lot at only 35c yard.

5 pieces all silk Black Satin Rhadames at 75c yard; we shall offer this lot at only 35c yard.

Remember this will be a great week for bargains in our Silk department. We advise an early call.

White Goods! White Goods!

From the Great New York Auction Sales.

Ridiculous prices for Monday that will crowd the Bee Hive and will assure the trading public that we are headquarters for all kinds of white goods.

500 pieces white India Linens, fully worth 35c yard; we shall offer this lot at only 30c yard.

In order to distribute them as widely as possible we shall limit the sale of two dress patterns to each customer. These goods are from auction, which accounts for this great bargain.

Extra help and room provided for this great sale.

Bonds, Stocks and Money.

CONSTITUTION OFFICE.
ATLANTA, April 7, 1888.

Brokers report a perceptible falling off in security trading. There is an absence of demand for anything almost, and it looks as if the season. There is some inquiry for mortgage loans and the market is likely to be somewhat quiet. Rates are now about eight per cent on loans running two to five years, borrowers paying commission and legal expenses. Traders are generally accommodated by the banks for commercial purposes, though the requirements will grow larger from this time forward until harvest is over and crops are being sold. Money is reported as being very close in Augusta, the praiseworthy cause being the very large amount of cotton on storage there on which advances have been made by the banks. The decline in cotton which has been pronounced the last few weeks has prevented the sale of large quantities of the staple, but if there should be an early improvement holders would be inclined to take advantage of it, and a good supply of money would be turned loose for other channels of trade. One of the peculiar features of the situation is the weak aspect of Georgia railroad stock. It was thought that the increase in dividend rate to one per cent per annum would bring about an advance in the price of the stock, but so far these hopes have gone to the winds. The stock is now offered in free quotation at about 20, though it sold for better prices before the notice of increase in dividend was given. It is now thought that after the dividend is paid on the 15th, the hoped for advance will come, and the market will be somewhat better. Money is not what may be properly called stringent anywhere in the south and the stock should sell higher than it is now doing. Atlanta and West Point stocks are asking 110 for it. In other securities there is nothing special to write. New York exchange buying at 45 premium and selling at 46 discount.

New York Exchange, buying at 3/4 premium and selling at 1/4 premium.

TUCKER

DATE DISEASES

Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys and Digestive Organs

So remarkably prevalent throughout this section of country, producing such symptoms as pale and watery complexion, bloated or sick headache, bitter taste in the mouth, coated tongue, hacking cough, skin dry and harsh, puffiness under the eyes, urine frequently scanty and high colored, or black, urine very free and colorless, often producing a scalding sensation when voided, and de-pooling a sediment on standing. Often there is great depression of spirits, with a feeling of impending trouble. The stomach is impaired, with frequent eructations, flatulency with acid eructations, bowels constive, with occasional diarrhoea, circulation sluggish, feet and hands often cold, vertigo and palpitation of the heart, all of these, and a thousand other symptoms are too numerous to mention. The above symptoms are not all present in any one case, nor are any two cases alike in every respect. Dr. Tucker has had a vast experience in treating cases of this character, and his success has been wonderful. If you are afflicted he treats you; do not delay until your malady becomes incurable.

PILES AND FISTULA

And other diseases of the rectum, such as fissure, ulceration, polypus, etc., have been treated for many years by Dr. Tucker, without failure to cure in a single case where a fair trial has been given. No knife is used and the treatment is not painful, never confining the patient to the house.

RESPONDENCE.

Fifty patients can be better treated than by meeting the doctor to describe the malady in his or her own language. After receiving further questions as may be necessary to fully understand the case, former weight (as far as possible) and occupation. Follow stamp for reply.

Dr. Tucker, honest, sincere investigation, and is at all times satisfied with the results in the doctor's sympathies, friend and giving him a fair trial. Reference to cured patients will always be made.

Tuesday, April 10,
COM VENCING AT 2 P. M.
Every lot is a gem; covered with a beautiful grove, elevated and overlooking the city.
They are located on the hill on the east side of Capitol avenue, just 300 yards beyond the city limits and 300 line. You have every advantage of the city and yet save the city taxes, making a difference of $1.50 on $100. All the lots are large and lie well and cannot be surpassed.
Terms of sale: One-half cash, balance in 6 and 12 months, with 8 per cent interest. Free ride on Metropolitan car, leaving corner Pryor

the ground immediately on arrival of the train.

The property has been subdivided into one and two acre lots, affording a rare opportunity to parties wishing to locate in this lovely town, with the very best society, schools and churches. Every desirable residence lot in Edgewood is increasing in value as steadily and regularly as one season follows another. The Georgia railroad gives the very best accommodations, and you can go to and from the city almost any hour of the day at a little less than street car fare.
We intend to make this an interesting sale, and if the day be bright you may rely on a most pleasant time. Call for plats and let us show

SABBATH SCRAP.

Which May Straighten Up Some Wrinkled Faces.

Prigden's Funeral—The funeral of the late John Prigden, who died at the residence of his wife, Mrs. Prigden, on Saturday last, was held at the residence of his wife, Mrs. Prigden, on Saturday last.

Prigden's plan should become popular.

The old man has listened to fulsome funeral puffs in his day. He has seen good men slighted by unappreciative preachers, and he has seen the whited sepulchre whose money covered his faults, extolled as an example for the young. Therefore, Mr. Prigden will preach his own funeral sermon in Clarke county today. Who has a better knowledge of his faults than he, and, as a matter of fact, who knows more of the goodness which he has moved him throughout his life?

While playing himself for the part the flesh has led him into, he will credit give to the spirit which has called him back from temptation. The open coffin will be placed before him, and he can have a feeling sense of the end which is to come.

Major James Hicks, an aged and highly respected citizen of Johnson county, who died a few days ago, aged 82 years, during the previous week went to the family burying ground and selected the spot on which he wished to be buried. He had represented Johnson county in the legislature, and served many years as school commissioner.

The grave naturally suggests relics, and the reliquary has been busy during the past week.

The Columbus Sun, in noticing a piece of wood in possession of Mr. L. Camp, of this city, gives its history. On the night of May 14, 1864, General Johnson retired from Resaca, having repulsed the federals that day, with a loss of 5,000 men. The battle was fierce, and bullets flew thick and fast. A saw mill now stands on the site of the old battle ground. A few days ago, while the sawer was at work, a minnie ball was discovered imbedded in the heart of a large pine tree. The owner of the mill preserved the ball in a piece of wood 12 inches wide and 4 inches long.

Uncle Charlie Hammond, of Spalding county, who is 75 years old, plays a fiddle for country dances which he has resumed up for 85 years.

He is well known throughout the county as one of the best citizens. He also has a couple of gun-fins he bought when he was a young man.

Hogansville is undoubtedly the driest town in the state. The drug stores have never sold a drop of whisky, and those who drink it have to import it from a distance. Nearly all the colored citizens in the place have bought homes.

The Conyers Weekly objects to spring poetry, and in view of recent publications, says: "The trees are in bloom, the birds are chirping, the bees are humming, and the warblers are making the forest melodious with their notes, and everything indicates spring except the stale poetry that occasionally finds its way into the columns of the bright and shining press. It is a pity that the poetry of our contemporaries is growing most beautifully small. I live and these people are always to be heard as we have been for years, and we wearily ask the question, 'Is life worth living?'"

The Weekly admits, however, that all this will be forgotten when Conyers has her barrel factory, tub factory, ax and hoe handle factory, and in successful operation.

Signs of springtime's reality are not wanting. The Newman Herald notes the fact that Colonel L. P. Barnes appeared on the streets the other day arrayed in a coat of gray and a vest. Hartwell has been killing cowbirds, snakes, and the two items following show there is something to live for:

Eastman Journal: Our young friend, J. W. Lee, is now wearing a brand new four-hits smile and leaning to sing snappy hymns. It is a girl.

Springfield Times: Mr. and Mrs. K. Ramsey came last night to the mill pond, and fatted girl in the company. She is only six months old and weighs twenty-two pounds.

Ben Hill Tompkins, of Carroll county, was named for Georgia's lamented statesman, Ben J. Hill, and he has never dishonored the name. Ben is a young man about twenty-seven years old, has been married only seven years and certainly has a very good wife. He has four interesting little children. He has a small estate of 500 acres from his father's estate. He now has 2,000 acres of good land, a saw mill, gin, corn and flour mill, a splendid dwelling, a fine barn and all necessary out-houses. He has ten large mules, two mules, five good mares, one stallion, one jack, thirty-four head of cattle, besides three yoke of large oxen, sixty head of hogs. He made last year 3,600 bushels of corn, ninety-three bales of cotton and everything else in proportion. He does not owe $1,000, and his note is good in the bank for almost any amount.

Mr. William Mote, in Carroll county, 80 1/2 years of age, has been living for the past 100 years. He milked four cows and had seven children in his family. His table was supplied every meal. All this better was sold at 20 cents a pound, with the exception of 50 pounds, making near $150 worth of butter sold during the year.

Mr. William Gentry, of Greene county, has a turkey hen that has laid one hundred and twelve eggs in as many consecutive days.

The Jew is almost everywhere, but there are some localities where he is unknown. Perry, which has a population of 1,000, claimed to be the only town of its size without a Hebrew, but Corvinton, with a population of 2,000, lost the bet. Thomson, which claims anywhere up to 5,000 people, is without Hebrews. These facts simply show that these towns have something yet to learn, and, in commenting upon them, the Swainsboro Pine Forest has also to say:

Swainsboro has a population of over 500, and while she has no Hebrew residents, we think she is needed here. If there is anything that would make us, it would be to see a good old fashioned Jew located at Swainsboro, with a well selected stock of goods. It would do Swainsboro more good than anything that could happen. Oh, Jerusalem, send out a traveler to Jericho.

A Macon man ships water from America. This is unaccountable in a Macon man, when few days ago, aged 82 years, during the previous week went to the family burying ground and selected the spot on which he wished to be buried. He had represented Johnson county in the legislature, and served many years as school commissioner.

The old man has listened to fulsome funeral puffs in his day. He has seen good men slighted by unappreciative preachers, and he has seen the whited sepulchre whose money covered his faults, extolled as an example for the young. Therefore, Mr. Prigden will preach his own funeral sermon in Clarke county today. Who has a better knowledge of his faults than he, and, as a matter of fact, who knows more of the goodness which he has moved him throughout his life?

While playing himself for the part the flesh has led him into, he will credit give to the spirit which has called him back from temptation. The open coffin will be placed before him, and he can have a feeling sense of the end which is to come.

Major James Hicks, an aged and highly respected citizen of Johnson county, who died a few days ago, aged 82 years, during the previous week went to the family burying ground and selected the spot on which he wished to be buried. He had represented Johnson county in the legislature, and served many years as school commissioner.

The grave naturally suggests relics, and the reliquary has been busy during the past week.

The Columbus Sun, in noticing a piece of wood in possession of Mr. L. Camp, of this city, gives its history. On the night of May 14, 1864, General Johnson retired from Resaca, having repulsed the federals that day, with a loss of 5,000 men. The battle was fierce, and bullets flew thick and fast. A saw mill now stands on the site of the old battle ground. A few days ago, while the sawer was at work, a minnie ball was discovered imbedded in the heart of a large pine tree. The owner of the mill preserved the ball in a piece of wood 12 inches wide and 4 inches long.

THE DAY IN MACON.

The Proceedings in the Federal Court.

A Humane Order by Judge Speer—Funeral of Mrs. Jenkins—General News and Gossip from the Central City.

Macon, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—The United States court convened at 10 o'clock a. m., Judge Speer presiding.

A special jury was called to try the case of the United States vs. Klueh, a negro, charged with violating the internal revenue laws. The case was not pressed by the district attorney, and there being no further need for the jury, the jurors in attendance were discharged.

Judge Speer suspended the sentence of William Klueh, a negro, charged with violating the internal revenue laws, and was at the same time ordered to work in an illicit distillery.

The following characteristic and humane order was passed:

It having been made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that defendant is a poor countryman, operating a small rented farm in Jasper county; that his wife and children are dependent upon his labor therefor for support, they not being able to get advances without no crop, and having no present means of sustenance; and that he left them in a poverty-stricken condition when he was arrested, and that he is a small child, the eldest being but a girl of eleven years of age, that he has no one to take care of his family, and that he is now in prison, and that his family is now in great want, and that the defendant has determined never again to be in any manner connected with the sale of liquor, and that he is a public law-abiding citizen, and the ends of justice not seeming to require that the defendant be confined in prison, it is ordered by the court that the sentence of the court in said case be and the same is hereby suspended until the further order of the court, and that the defendant be discharged from custody.

High W. Washington was admitted to plead and practice in the courts of the United States.

Court was adjourned from Saturday to Saturday until further order of the court.

The enormity of the internal revenue laws never appeared so plainly as in a case which was brought before the court for hearing an empty whisky cask home in a wagon. It seems that the cask was made of an excellent citizen of Taylor county was arrested and brought before the court for hauling an empty whisky cask home in a wagon. The court here is continually compelled to suspend the sentence of prisoners convicted, because the penalties are so severe.

A NEGRO KILLED.

A Sensational Affair Reported from Unionville.

Macon, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—News reached the city this morning of the shooting of a negro out in Unionville last night, about two and a half miles from this city. Bill Wilder was the victim, and the deed was done by Mr. Alphonse Price, of the firm of E. R. & S. C. Price, of this city. His brother, May, was with him at the time, and he was shot in the back. It was learned that last night Mr. Price was walking up Columbus road when he met Wilder, who was walking in the same direction. The conversation he felt Wilder try to slip his hand in his pocket as if to rob him. He told the negro to stop, but he would not do so, and fear of having his money taken from him, he drew his pistol and fired one shot at him, which entered the abdomen and killed him. The negro was found on the skin in the back. When the negro fell, Price went to the house near by and told his brother, May, who was with him, of his movements are not known, but he had an engagement with Alexander Cherry to go to the country to purchase cattle, and as he is not yet returned, it is supposed that he has gone on this mission. The negro died about 11 o'clock to-day and was buried in the afternoon. The body was there was no witnesses to the affair, the jury's verdict was that the deceased came to his death from a gun shot, fired from a weapon in hand of party or parties unknown to them.

The Funeral of Mrs. W. Jennings.

Macon, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—This afternoon at five o'clock, the funeral services of the late Mrs. Jennings were held at the First Presbyterian church. Over 100 persons attended the funeral. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Hill, pastor of the church. The deceased was buried in the cemetery.

The Probabilities of the Various Candidates.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—The political thermometer of Randall county is rising with the season. Hon. C. Taylor, member of the last house, will stand for re-election. He is not only a good citizen, but a good legislator. He is a good representative, but it is probable he will have one or more opponents. He is deeply opposed to the present internal revenue laws.

Randolph will furnish the senator from this district, provided the party can harmonize on one man. Hon. C. Taylor, who has been one of the other outside counties can step in and claim the prize. At present Mr. A. B. Harris, of Randolph county, is the favorite. He is a good citizen, but he is not a good legislator. He is a good representative, but it is probable he will have one or more opponents. He is deeply opposed to the present internal revenue laws.

The Election of the Board of Supervisors.

Macon, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—Today at twelve o'clock the democratic executive committee, of Bibb county, assembled at the court-house to select a board of supervisors. The object, as stated by the chairman, was to appoint a date in which to elect delegates to the next convention of the party. Hon. R. Tinsley, secretary pro tem in place of the regular secretary, D. C. Smith, who was absent, presided. The following names were proposed: R. Phillips, J. Anderson, W. A. Wyllie, William H. Rose, C. A. Sharpe, John G. Dietz and A. Thayer.

After some discussion the date selected was April 22d.

Fifty and Cost.

Macon, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—The case of Boyd Blackshear, the negro that shot George Green at a public meeting in East Macon last week, was tried by Judge Baxter in the recorder's court this morning.

The accused was charged with the murder of George Green, a white man, who was killed last week. The evidence was that a general fight took place, and that Boyd was innocent of the crime. The fine was $100, and the jury was discharged.

The Insane "Dog" Will Be Housed.

Macon, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—This morning Judge Speer ordered that a dog, which had been found in the street, be housed in the insane asylum. The dog was found in the street, and it was thought that it was insane.

Paragraphs of Personal Points.

Macon, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—Hon. Henry Hillier, of Atlanta, is in the city, and is expected to stay here for some time. He is a good citizen, and a good legislator. He is a good representative, but it is probable he will have one or more opponents. He is deeply opposed to the present internal revenue laws.

Death of Judge McDaniel.

NORFOLK, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—Judge J. McDaniel, one of the most prominent and influential citizens of our county, and a pioneer of this region, breathed his last on Thursday. In his life he held many positions of honor and trust, and he is faithfully discharged.

THE NEWTON FLOOD.

The Lively Times in the County Seat of Albany, Ga., April 7, 1888.—[Special.]

The news of the inundation of Newton was brought to the city by Mr. J. H. Hill, who has been visiting some days in the county seat of Baker county. The condition of the overflooded town has already been wired to the Constitution. Newton, the county seat of Baker county, is over fifty miles from Albany by water, though less than half the distance by road. Following a freshet it is two days after the water began to rise, and it is now a complete sea. The news was received with great satisfaction. The Newton boys dearly love a practical joke. Even during the freshet they could not curb their propensity to perpetrate them. When persons would appear across the river desirous to come over the torrent to trade, or to bathe, the Newton boys would be there, and would be paddled over for him. He would be carried from store to store. When his purchases were completed, the goods would be brought over in a small boat, and the luckless passenger again paddled along by the pair that had been so kind in bringing him over. When on their journey and while just in the middle of the river, the boat would capsize, and paddlers and passenger precipitated into the torrent. They would all cling to the cottons, and eventually the cottons would break, and the boat would sink, and the passengers would be drowned. The Newton boys would be there, and would be paddled over for him. He would be carried from store to store. When his purchases were completed, the goods would be brought over in a small boat, and the luckless passenger again paddled along by the pair that had been so kind in bringing him over.

The people of Newton are whole-souled and generous. When the water rose to such a height that the people were unable to reach some of the places, such as the Jim Town store, it was four feet deep and boats paddled through it. Then such stores as Governor Hughes had in the interior of the county, in places high and dry, threw open their doors and welcomed all who sought shelter from the rising river.

Last year Newton had a similar inundation. It is said to be beneficial instead of an injury to the city, as it washes it out and leaves it as good as new. The city is now in a better condition than it was before. The water has washed away the mud, and the city is now in a better condition than it was before. The water has washed away the mud, and the city is now in a better condition than it was before.

McRae has a lively time with the Big Syndicate.

McRAE, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—The Western Union telegraph line in a way that was closed today for commercial business, by order of Superintendent J. A. Bremer, of Augusta, Ga., on account of the town council imposing a tax of five dollars on telegraph companies per year. The company did not think the receipts of the office amounted to enough to pay the tax. The council, however, in January last imposed the tax on telegraph companies on the recommendation of the tax committee, and the company was forced to pay the tax. The company is now in a better condition than it was before.

THE PROPOSED UNIVERSITY.

Of Georgia Unanimously Indorsed by the Augusta Presbytery.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—The Augusta Presbytery, in its session at Easton, Ga., April 4, 1888, and was organized with Hon. J. A. Billups as moderator. He and Dr. J. H. Hill, of Augusta, were appointed commissioners to the general assembly, to meet at Baltimore in May.

One of the most important matters before the presbytery was the consideration of the proposed Presbyterian university of Georgia. This was brought before the presbytery by Dr. J. H. Hill, of Augusta, and was unanimously adopted.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Larry Gantt Will Not be a Candidate—Clarke County Convention.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—Mr. Larry Gantt was interviewed by a Constitution correspondent today, and stated that he had given up his intention of making the race for the next legislature. He is now in the city, and is waiting for the next legislature. He is now in the city, and is waiting for the next legislature.

Old Mansion Rehabilitated.

GAINEVILLE, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—Dr. B. H. Knotts, of Gaineville, S. C., has purchased the mansion of Judge Rice, on Bradford street, in this city, and is making many improvements. The mansion is a fine building, and is now in a better condition than it was before.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—Visitors have arrived from all parts of the state to witness the funeral services of Dr. Prigden. Every body is going, and carriages, buggies and wagons are lined up at every price. The funeral services will be held at the city hall, and will be a grand affair.

Constant Improvements.

GAINEVILLE, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—In all parts of our city new buildings are being going up. The hammer, the trowel, the saw are heard constantly. The bricklayers are exhausted. At no time in the past has there been so much building going on in Gaineville now. Our streets, sidewalks and curbs are all being put in first-class order. Some visitors from the low country have already arrived, and others are seeking board.

Fire in America.

AMERICA, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—The store of Joiner & Nicholson, general grocers, and that of Dr. J. E. Hall, druggist, were burned, with their contents, this morning. Nothing was saved from either building. The loss is about $20,000. The insurance about half that amount. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

Mad Dogs at Large.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—Dr. Mark Williamson, of Lexington, is in the city, and is waiting for the next legislature. He is now in the city, and is waiting for the next legislature.

Killed by Lightning.

AMERICA, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—Coleman Shook, a colored employee of the American Express and mail railroad company, was killed by lightning while walking along the railroad track here this morning. His neck was broken by the bolt, and his clothing slipped from his waist down to his shoe tips.

SHAKESPEARE'S WOMEN.

Represented by Young Ladies at the Lucy Cobb Institute.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 7.—[Special.]—In our report of yesterday the description of the costumes of the young ladies participating in the Lucy Cobb entertainment was necessarily short. All the young ladies were so perfect in the rendition of their parts that praise can hardly be accorded to any one young lady without injustice to all. The only exception to this comprehensive statement is that of Miss M. B. Broughton, of the institute, to whom the credit of the entire entertainment is due. Assisted by her sister, Miss Lipscomb, she has so thoroughly trained the young ladies in their parts that their character recitations could not be excelled by professionals. Miss Maud Barker, of Atlanta, was Melpomene, the muse of tragedy, and was beautifully attired in a Grecian robe of white satin trimmed in ivory. Miss Barker is one of the most beautiful young ladies in Georgia, and never appeared to better advantage than in her simple costume. Miss Cornelia Jackson, of Atlanta, a daughter of Captain Harry Jackson, took the part of Thia, the muse of comedy, and never was comedy so sparkling and bright as in her representation in the person of Miss Jackson. She was a study of grace and beauty, and her comedy was so perfect that it was a pleasure to watch her.
